

Story Group Week 4

INTRO:

- How did the conversations go with your 5 people? Did you share your story?
- What did you learn from your conversations with your 5?
- Did you schedule another meeting with any of your 5 people?

PART 1:

- Split up into groups of 3-4
- Take turns sharing your stories, this should take 15-20 minutes. (Give a 10 and 5 minute warning to the various groups)
- After each person shares their story, the story listeners should encourage the story teller by relaying what impacted them the most. The Listener should also share if there are any details that the teller might want to add or subtract from the story. This is meant to help everyone hone their stories into a well rehearsed and impactful 2-3 minute delivery.
- Go until each person has shared their stories and then meet back together with the full group

PART 2:

- What changes have you made in your story since the first time you told it?
- What impact has hearing other's stories had on you?
- What is an area you still need to gain confidence in?

PART 3:

- Follow the same instructions as Part 1 but make sure the groups of 3-4 are mixed up as differently as possible from the first round.

PART 4:

- Who will you commit to sharing your story with next? (State names out loud)
- What sort of follow up will you have with those you share your story with?
- Who can help ensure that you'll continue to tell your story? (Accountability)
- When will you ask that person to help you?

PART 5:

- You have all the tools necessary to be a storyteller. If you've shared your story with someone, make sure they have the opportunity to grow in that story. Meet with them and invite them to your tribe group or church.
- (End by having your group say together, "I am a Storyteller and I will tell my story with Christ so that others can have their own story with Him.")
